Brockton Visiting Nurse Association Participates in United Way's Warmer Winters Initiative

Brockton, MA — Brockton Visiting Nurse Association (BVNA) is pleased to announce that the non-profit home health and hospice organization was able to purchase a number of warm winter coats for children of their patients through the generosity of the Warmer Winters program. This program is supported by the United Way of Greater Plymouth County and their corporate partners: Beth-Israel Deaconess Hospital – Plymouth, Bridgewater Savings Charitable Foundation, Good Samaritan Medical Center, Macy's, National Grid and Target.

Below, is a photo of BVNA's Cynthia Napierata, PTA, with the coats to be distributed to the BVNA families.

About BVNA

Serving Southeastern Massachusetts as an independent, non-profit provider of healthcare services since 1904, the Brockton Visiting Nurse Association (BVNA) has as its mission "to provide innovative and exceptional health care services in the home and in the communities we serve," as it meets the evolving needs of patients in over 30 communities. BVNA plays a significant role in population health and leverages its resources to maximize the balance of superior outcomes, exceptional patient experiences and cost-effective care. Recently, BVNA launched a hospice program to offer compassionate end-of-life care to patients and families, enhancing the agency's continuum of care. To learn more about BVNA's services, employment opportunities or ways to support its mission, interested parties can go to www.brocktonvna.org to see why BVNA is more than you'd expect from home care.
